1000 PROTEST AGAINST PRISON SENTENCE

British Vessel Tests Governments Liquor Ruling

Eight More Ships To Leave England Soon With Booze

NEW YORK, June 22.—The liner Baltic, arrived with liquor aboard to test the government's ruling against intoxicants brought inside the three mile limit. While customs officials went down the bay to meet the Berengaria, thought to be the first British ship to challenge the American law, the Baltic slid into quarantine. She has liquor aboard under British seal, for use of passengers on the return trip. The contraband will probably be seized if inspection shows it is in excess of medical purposes. Possibility that Captain Roberts might be arrested for illegally bringing liquor into American waters. It is understood that night British liners are scheduled to sail from England soon, all carrying liquor.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Docking today with supplies of liquor under of Social British seals the Cunarder Berengaria made the first test case of a foreign vessel's right to bring liquor into American territorial waters. The Berengaria was due to dock at noon. Before that time, however, customs officers, under orders from Washington, will have broken the seals of His Majesty's Government, seized the liquor and given a receipt for it. After which the Conard Line may make its official protest to the Treasury Department and test the case probably in court. The big liner, shoved up off quarantine early this morning and specially instructed customs officials were waiting to board her. The intended seizure was a cut and dried affair, the announcement having been made at Washington of what was to be expected. The intrusion of beverage liquor within the Volsteadian domain was not regarded as a challenge to American legislation or authority. It was recognized: the steamship companies are entitled to their test case.

EX-KAISER'S SECOND WIFE AND CHILDREN

Princess Hermine of Reuss, the second wife of ex-Kaiser Wilhelm, whom she married in his exile in Doorn, Holland, is shown with her four children by her first marriage, with whom she recently spent her vacation at Castle Sabor, her Silesian home, giving rise to rumors she had left the ex-Kaiser for good. In the group, left to right are: Prince Hans George, Princess Hermine of Reuss, Princess Henriette, Princess Carmo and Prince George Wilhelm, riding the bicycle.

Demonstration Occurs Before Houston Jail

HOUSTON, Texas, June 22.—One thousand persons were reported to have taken part in a silent demonstration which was staged at the county jail here last night in protest to the jailing of three Goose Creek citizens for contempt of court. The men, W. E. Viles, W. S. Bradley, and J. E. Harper, were incarcerated in the county jail yesterday after they had refused to answer questions propounded to them in connection with a grand jury investigation into mob rule and masked floggings in Harris county. A small demonstration was staged yesterday afternoon when about 300 residents of Goose Creek gathered at the jail. All business houses in the little oil town were closed yesterday and the people piled into all available vehicles and came to Houston. Last night the big demonstration was held. It lasted for more than an hour. There was no loud talking, the crowd for the most part was silent. One speech was made and a band played several numbers and then departed. Some concern was exhibited by local officials and the electric traffic signals were ordered to be run until 11 p. m. The night squad of motorcycle policemen were held in readiness for any possible violence. According to men reputed to be leaders of the crowd, another and larger demonstration will be held tonight. The men were sentenced to jail until they agree to answer the questions asked them. The demonstrations will continue until the men are released, according to members of the crowd last night.

Woman Testifies That She Fired Twice At Men Who Were Backing Out of Hotel

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 22.—Testifying at the trial of Tom Ross, Mrs. H. L. Robertson declared that she fired two shots at two men backing out of the hotel lobby after her husband and

Dave Allison were killed. When asked who she shot at she looked at Ross and said, "the man who killed my husband." Sheriff Britton, who witnessed the shooting, testified that Ross entered the lobby and started the firing.

Harding Thinks He Has Won In Fight For World Court

By LAWRENCE MARTIN (Copyright, 1923, by United Press) Enroute to Kansas City on Board President Harding's Special Train, June 22.—President Harding has either taken into camp the enemies of his world court plan or he has surrendered the proposal to their mercies, knowing that they will kill it. The President believes he has done the former, that by appearing to yield freely and generously to their demand for reservations he has forced Senators Lodge, Watson and the other disaffected Republican senators to put on their reservations and then ratify the court protocol or convict themselves before the country of insincerity. The reaction to Mr. Harding's world court speech to an audience of 10,000 last night probably will be violent. The President will not be surprised if it is. He expects, for example, that the irreconcilables will at once raise a clamor against his suggestion that the court be made self-perpetuating. That suggestion, one of the most amazing ever uttered by an American President, was put into the speech, against the advice of some of Mr. Harding's close friends. But he put it in along with his general offer to consider any and all reservations offered in good faith. He did this deliberately. His purpose was simply to force a definite line-up on the court to show who are for it, who against it, and who is trying to knife it while ostensibly supporting it in principle. The St. Louis speech was, in fact, the boldest challenge Mr. Harding has yet issued to that group of Senators who have lately been trying to "ruin him," not only on the court issue, but on domestic matters, some of them purely political. The President was warned before he delivered his St. Louis speech that it would not please either the friends or the foes of the world court plan. Mr. Harding said last night he would not try to coerce the Senate nor impose his will on the people and "score a victory for executive insistence." He will not repeat if he can help it, the experience of Woodrow Wilson with the Versailles treaty. He wants most earnestly to get the United States into the court. He is willing to accept any method any reservation that will insure American membership. The reason is that the court plan is the cornerstone of the Harding administration's whole plan for world peace. Without American membership in the court, other items in the Harding international program will either be rendered impracticable or seriously delayed. That is why

Circulation Of The News Climbs Fast

The stream of new subscriptions to The Mexia Daily News has become a steady flow today, as additional readers send in their checks for the newspaper for the coming year. The largest number of subscriptions to reach here on any one day of the campaign are coming in today. In fact, the record has already been broken, with several hours yet ahead before night falls and before all mail is in. It is expected that each day until the close of the club rate campaign July 15, that even larger numbers will subscribe for the only daily between Corsicana and Bryan. The Mexia Daily News occupies and serves a territory that commands for it the respect of the entire state and with the expansion of circulation throughout the rural and neighboring communities, The News expects to improve constantly. The new subscribers coming in today are largely from the mail routes out of Mexia and out of surrounding towns. The farmers are pleased to learn of the plan which provides them with a daily newspaper for a price about the equal of that which they usually pay for a weekly.

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 22.—An indictment charging murder was returned by a grand jury here late Thursday against John T. Halbert, deputy constable for the shooting of Alva Hooper. Halbert, who was seriously wounded in the gun battle, was dismissed from the hospital Wednesday. Hooper was shot and killed last Saturday night on the streets here.

St. Louis, June 22.—Guy Gundersen of Philadelphia, became president of the International Rotary club when his nomination was enthusiastically received there the past term. He paid the dues others being entered.

THREE GUSHERS IN THURSDAY IN POWELL FIELD

The Humphreys McKie 2 came in about 7:00 o'clock Thursday night, making an estimated gusher production of at least 7,000 barrels. Colonel A. E. Humphreys, President of the company, left the headquarters of the company here early Thursday, it being expected that the well would be brought in a few hours earlier than it was. But he remained on the ground until the noteworthy event was a reality. He stated today that the well was making by actual gauge test, through a choker, 3000 barrels of "pure" pipe-line oil. With Colonel Humphreys at the well were Glen Kahle and other members of the organization as well as hundreds of spectators during the day. The well was considered highly important as it represented an extension that proves without doubt a very large field at Powell. It is a southwest extension of 4500 feet from the Kent.

The day was a record for the new pool, three producers joining the production list during the day. The off-day's News, the U. S. Tex Burke No. 2 and the Gulf's Blumrosen 1 wells came in earlier in the day for production estimated at around 2,000 and 1,500 barrels respectively. Immediately upon the completion of the Humphreys McKie 2, the Humble Company made locations for 4 more wells and the Humphreys oil company today will make 4 additional locations in the vicinity of its Number 2.

The line of production at Powell now extends Northeast and Southwest for about one mile, on both sides of Chambers Creek. The E. L. Smith Oil Company's Irvine 1, below the Austin Chalk, is looked forward to as the most important well now being drilled. It will prove up the pool several hundred yards further Southwest. Quite a number of other wells have set casing, including the Hughes McKie 4; the Sun company's Springfield offsetting the J. L. Thompson Oil Corporation's Springfield, while Mitchell and Jones have drilled out the plug in the Burke 1 a couple of hundred yards North-east of Hughes McKie 1 gusher, whose flow continues in undiminished volume.

Editor Lee Kirgan of the Fairfield Recorder passed through Mexia this morning enroute to Waco to bring his daughter home after attending school over there the past term. He paid the News sanctum a pop call in passing.

Farmers May Purchase Armour Grain Company

CHICAGO, June 22.—A plan for cooperative purchase of the Armour Grain Company by farmers as suggested by Bernard M. Baruch has aroused favorable interest from J. Ogden Armour and George A. Marcy, head of the grain company, Marcy said today.

Baruch confirmed that Baruch had presented the scheme to both the Armour chief. After Armour and Marcy had given general approval to the plan, no definite proposal as to purchase price or buyers was made and the project is still in a "tentative stage." "We are open to any proposition made us, and we understand that the conversations will be resumed after Baruch has conferred with other parties, (probably a farmers or wheat growers organization,) who might become parties to such an arrangement," Marcy stated. Baruch revealed his proposed project in an interview with the United Press in New York last night. He urged that farmers, probably through the United States Grain Growers Inc., or a like organization purchase the Armour organization and turn it into a great co-operative marketing concern through which the wheat growers may obtain increased prices and greater profits.

Explosion Of Speedy Yacht Unexplained

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22. The crew of a speedy power yacht, now only tangled wreckage, is unaccounted for following an explosion twenty miles off Saybrook last night observed by the yacht Shadow. Dr. J. C. Ayer, who arrived here aboard the yacht, informed the police that he and members of the Shadow's party had observed a high powered speed boat cruising along the Sound last evening. The launch was seen suddenly to be enveloped in flames; an explosion followed. When small boats from the Shadow reached the spot where the launch should be, only bits of wreckage remained. Dr. Ayer had no indication of how many had been on the launch.

With The Heat Wave

NEW YORK, June 22.—Considerable relief from the terrific heat wave lying over the East was experienced by New Yorkers today. The temperature at 8 a. m. was 75, with the semblance of a breeze. This was ten degrees cooler than at the same hour Thursday.

Six more deaths were caused here by the heat yesterday, with numerous prostrations.

Two persons died from heat prostrations in Brooklyn early today, expiring shortly before a slight breeze blew up, bringing relief.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—Kansas City sweltered under continued high temperatures today, on the occasion of President Harding's visit.

Precautions were taken to rush heat victims to hospitals, as huge crowds gathered to witness the presidential parade through the city.

Record high temperature for the year will be made here this afternoon, the Weather Bureau predicted.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 22.—Ohio, sweltering in temperatures ranging from 90 to 95, which have caused a death toll of 20 persons, saw no prospects of the heat wave abating at an early hour today.

Windfall reported a temperature of 86 and clear skies at 7 a. m.

DETROIT, Mich., June 22.—One man was killed by lightning, one succumbed to heat prostration and seven cases of prostration were reported in the last 24 hours here. Although a light rain fell late yesterday, the temperature was on the upswing this morning with 82 recorded at 6 a. m.

SHINGTON, June 22.—No material relief from the heat today and tomorrow is promised by the weather bureau. No change for the next forty eight hours. Thunder

REVIVALIST TO REACH HERE SATURDAY

H. S. Jenkins, singer, who is to assist at the revival which is to begin Sunday at the First Methodist church, will arrive tonight said Rev. W. B. Andrews, the pastor, today in speaking of the services. He further stated that the evangelist, Rev. Luther Bridges, will reach Mexia Saturday. Everything is in readiness for the meeting. The addition of several fans to the big auditorium of the church makes it one of the coolest places in town and there should be no discomfort to the congregations who attend, said the local pastor, in speaking of the arrangements made. The first service of the revival will be Sunday morning at 11:00 and the next in the evening at 8:15. Thereafter, for at least two weeks the meeting will continue, with two services daily. The hour of the morning service will be announced upon the arrival of Dr. Bridges. The Methodists of the city and community are looking forward to the revival and a great many of them with much expectancy as it will be the first revival held in the church here in a good many months. The stewards and congregation join the pastor in extending a cordial invitation to everyone to be present.

GERMAN SHOOT 3 BELGIANS KILLING 2 ON SPOT

DUSSELDORF, June 22.—Two Belgian soldiers were shot dead and a third wounded by one of two German civilians whom they had halted on the road near the village of Marl between Dorsten and Heeklinghausen, in the Ruhr. The Belgians were part of a cyclist patrol. Coming upon the Germans, they stopped and questioned them whereupon one of the latter drew a revolver and firing rapidly, shot down all three soldiers before they could act. Neither of the Germans has been apprehended.

The President Given Rousing Reception Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—President Harding was given a rousing reception on his arrival here. He and wife are apparently standing the heat well. In his speech last night the president advocated detaching the World Court from the League of Nations and making it independent organization. He expects much criticism for expressing this view.

COMMENDING THE ELKS OF MEXIA

The News has heard many expressions of approval because of the Flag Day service held by the Mexia B. P. O. E. The Elks of this city represented the only organization here that attempted anything in the way of a patriotic observance on the historical date. The attendance was not what it should have been on the occasion when the Flag Day Service was held at the First Christian church. Yet it was a source of satisfaction to know that an organization and a number of citizens, imbued with the spirit of America, anxious to perpetuate its traditions and instill its lofty ideals in young and old alike, were striving to do something worth while and helpful. The service was impressive; the address by acting Exalted Ruler Reeves inspirational. The Mexia B. P. O. E. truly represented the best in American blood and in American history on that occasion.

MEXIA MAN HAS RELIC OF ST. MIHIEL DRIVE TO BE SHOWN AT THE FAIR

Found in a devoted French village, brought the robe home with him, in the St. Mihiel district, after the fleeing Germans had left devastation behind, a magnificent robe worn by the priest in charge of the village.

The Mexia man's letter has been referred to the superintendent of the art and curio department of the State Fair, and it may be that the relic will prove of utmost interest to visitors next October.

Richard G. Norman, with the Texas secretary at Mexia, has written Secretary Stanton of the State Fair, telling the secretary about the robe, and asking information as to how it may be shown to the thousands who will visit the Fair this year.

Luling Field Outlook Bright

"Luling is sure to be a second Burdett," said Charles Porter Tindley, Mexia oil operator, who has been active in the development of the Tehuacana section of the Mexia fields, on his return from Luling late yesterday.

With the major companies, including the Magnolia, Gulf, Texas, Roxana and several independent companies, the "big show" is on at Luling. From now on the development will be carried on with hectic speed in the race for the liquid gold, which in the opinion of some of the best posted oil men underlies this section of Caldwell county.

Recently the Magnolia and the Texas purchased nearly three hundred acres between the Sap railroad and the Southern Pacific Railroads. Over twenty freight cars loaded with equipment arrived on the Luling tracks the first of this week. The acreage purchased by these companies are between the Richard Kennedy and the Rayer wells, both of these wells are showing oil and gas and are on the northeastern extension of the field. The leases owned by Messrs Tindley and Killough of Mexia are between these developments, the Kennedy acreage offsetting on the west.

Many of the big companies now have men on the ground and numbers of deals for acreage here are under way, with several big deals completed Monday. Prices ranging from $40 to $350 are paid depending on distance. But a little of the close-in stuff is offered. The completion of the Tabor well some few days ago, estimated good for 1,500 barrels, has stimulated activities and plans are under way for a drilling campaign surpassing anything projected before in Southwest Texas. The Greyburg well, supervised by Dr. Thompson of San Antonio, well known in Mexia during the boom, is looking good for a producer. The Hardaman well shot oil and gas over the derriek Sunday. Several wells are nearing the pay and if it was not for the restrictions of the Railroad commission many new producers would be brought in. Pipe line facilities are under way and in a few days shipments will be running from the Luling field.

It is the consensus of opinion among the big men that big production will be found in the two sands that are now known and that deep test oil will be found. The best evidence of all this aside from the data of the formations and the logs of the wells, is the manner in which the major companies have bought leases in Luling—and are still buying.

NOTICE ICE CONSUMERS

Some months ago we issued a bulletin on the price of ice. In this bulletin we announced that we would give a 5 per cent discount for the purchase of coupon books if paid for at the time of purchase. We allowed this discount in order to eliminate credits and the trouble and expense of sending out a collector. Beginning June 22nd we are going to do still better and allow you, instead of the 5 per cent discount, 5 cents per hundred pounds of ice for the purchase of coupon books for cash which will make the price as follows:

Wholesale deliveries (average 100 lbs or more per day).....	60c
Wholesale for coupons (average 100 lbs. or more per day)....	55c
1000 lb. Coupon Books, Cash.....	$ 5.50
2000 lb. Coupon Books, Cash.....	$11.00
Retail deliveries (less than 100 lbs. average per day).....	70c
Retail deliveries for coupons.....	65c
500 lb. Coupon Books.....	$3.25
1000 lb. Coupon Books Cash.....	$6.50

Please bear in mind that this price on coupon books means CASH—not pay tomorrow, or when the book is used up, but at the time the book is left at your house or place of business, other wise the old price of 70 cents per hundred remains unchanged.

We have based the above price on the one hundred pounds of ice in order that we may be fair to all as near as possible.

We announced at the beginning of the ice season that we were installing a scoring machine which would insure correct weight to everybody. Since that time we have had less than a half dozen complaints on short weight against about that many daily before the installation of this machine.

In regard to early and late deliveries, do not think that the ice you get at 11 or 12 o'clock in the residence part of town is the same ice that is loaded on the wagon at 4 a. m. New ice is sent to the wagons by truck every two hours so that the shrinkage does not exceed the 4 per cent which is allowed in each block of ice.

We are going to give you service, a nice quality of ice and correct weight. If you fail to get these, we will appreciate you calling the office.

Yours very truly,

Central Texas Ice, Light & Power Co.

SPORTLIGHT

Although the Babe may not set a new home run record he stands a showing to make a new record for walking. In the first fifty games the Babe was walked sixty four times. Afraid of him, eh!

Manager Johnson of the Austin Rangers let the Busters down with four hits Wednesday but out of those four hits the Busters made five runs and defeated the Rangers 5 to 2.

The Squib got two of the Gushers' five hits at Marlin Wednesday but the boys just could not help the Squib along.

Butler and Bechtel swatted a 3-bagger and a double respectively but Charlie Gresset worked hard and diligently to keep them from counting.

John Frieson, veteran Texas leaguer, has quit the Sherman Red Sox and Melver is using Grady Higginbotham in his place in the center garden.

Tom Gibbons is working hard for his coming fight with Dempsey and the people of Shelby are absolutely for Gibbons.

The state tennis tournament will be held at Austin in 1924 on the University of Texas campus.

Babe Ruth has smacked out four home runs this season and out of the 30 played at home he has only struck four homers while he has hit 10 out of the 26 road games. The Stadium must be a jinx to the Cubs.

A slight rain fell about noon and it is hoped that it will continue to fall until the farmers of all sections are benefited.

KEEPING UP WITH CLAUDE

We went out to see Claude Bryson yesterday and found him sitting up and, presumably enjoying life. He is able to walk a little now and then with the aid of his crutches and declares that he can walk on a pair of crutches if any one can, if they will only give him a half a chance.

While there the postman brought him a letter from his mother, the dearest pal on earth, and before opening it, he smiled and said "I'll bet she wants me to come home on the next train."

Claude used to be quite an athlete during his high school days indulging in all of the school sports with the exception of football. He won first place at the state meet in the pole vault and the next year he tied for first in the same event. He also slung a wicked arm when it came to throwing the shot. He played baseball with the town team at Center, his home town, and with the adjoining town of the community.

Claude is confident, however, that the Gushers will come through all right and he said that he didn't know what to think of them losing Wednesday's game, unless they had left their luck at home and were having a little trouble in getting it back.

The Right Shortening is Important

So much depends upon it. Whether your cake, your biscuits or muffins shall be light and tender, or whether they will turn out tough and soggy is often determined by the shortening you use. Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is a pure vegetable shortening. It is light and easily digested. It makes pastries and hot breads always tender and delicious.

Thousands of women are learning the satisfaction of always using a pure, dependable shortening. Mrs. Tucker's never gives a lardy taste to food. In frying, it browns food crisply and delicately. It costs no more than ordinary shortening and can be used again and again.

Be sure to get the blue pill with Mrs. Tucker's picture on it. Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is made right here in the South.

DEMPSEY LOSES LOTS OF HIS OLD FIGHT SPIRIT

By HENRY L. FARRELL

(United Press Staff correspondent)

GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 22.—Jack Dempsey weighs 189 pounds and "he won't be much more" when he goes into the ring against Tommy Gibbons, July 4, Jerry L. Avates, his trainer, said today.

Dempsey still looks lighter than he did when he was getting ready for Georges Carpentier. He has the bulky shoulders and a lot of weight in his arm, but he seems to be thinner in the waist and limbs.

Bets were being offered today with Dempsey the favorite to knock out Gibbons. In one billiard hall where bets are posted on a blackboard, $100 to $50 and $200 to $100 were offered on Dempsey to win, but there were no takers. The betting is changing, however. Several large bets of more than $1,000 were taken last week at odds of 4 to 1, on the champion.

Outside of the heavyweight boxing championship, Jack Dempsey has his heart set on another title. He wants to take on any man of his weight or better at hearts. And Dempsey says he can deal.

While the wind whistled through the trees about the champion's training quarters last night, and beat down steadily and musically on the roof, Dempsey banked iron dollars and dimes in front of him as he ran a big game of hearts with his camp mates.

"I'm better with the dough than Doc Kearns and that makes me champion," Dempsey said as he looked over a handful of clubs and remarked on top of it:

"Wouldn't be a bad whist hand would it?"

Dempsey has lost a lot of the buoyant spirit that he had at Atlantic City. He doesn't try his wringing holds on his friends and he no longer takes pride in putting a "tenderfoot" flat in a chair with a mighty wallop on the back. But the champion still likes to play cards.

GALVESTON, June 22.—The large run runner reported anchored off the coast failed to materialize when customs inspectors visited the vicinity where the ship was reported seen. According to Sam Zinn, special deputy collector, a large boat was anchored slightly off the steamship lanes last night. He declared he did not know whether it was a rum vessel or not. No trace of the ship was found on investigation.

Where Quality Counts Above Everything Else

Quality is more important in an enclosed car than in most any other product in daily use.

Regardless of price, it is not economy to buy a makeshift job in which the quality is skimmed and cheapened at every turn. Paint, imitation leather and fibre board too often cover serious structural defects and cotton-and-wool trimming cloths are short lived. The chances are that the buyer will more than pay the difference later—in higher upkeep cost, frequent repairs and excessive depreciation.

The price of the Light-Six Sedan is the lowest at which it is possible to obtain a substantial, high grade hardwood and steel body, upholstered in mohair, in combination with a chassis of proved dependability and performance.

Studebaker's South Bend plants build more high quality closed bodies than those of any other automobile manufacturer and consequently overhead costs are reduced and the price to the customer is low.

The in-built quality of the Light-Six Sedan is evident the moment one gets behind the wheel, and is appreciated far more after twenty-five or thirty thousand miles of service.

The Light-Six Sedan, with its sturdy four-door body, its improved L-head motor, and the excellence of its chassis, combines distinction of appearance with a reliability of performance, a degree of comfort and economy of operation unknown in any other car at anywhere near its price.

Protest The Poor Is The Berlin Plan

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent.
CHAPTER III

BERLIN, June 22.—Germany's anti-profititeering law and its army of enforcement are concerned chiefly with shielding the man with overalls and his frau. It doesn't worry much about the bloated newly-rich, living luxuriously on Kurfurstendamm.

"We aim to protect the workingman and his family," said Regierungsrat Hinkel to the United Press. "I don't worry so much about the be-jeweled woman who sends her cook down to the market to buy early strawberries at a few thousand marks a piece. I'm more concerned with seeing that profiteering dealers don't try to charge milk-workers a few hundred marks extra for her scanty piece of meat which she can afford to have only once a week or once every two weeks."

The Wucher police—profiteer police—center much of their attention on the great cattle-yards in east Berlin. Every morning before the slaughtering starts, a special board deliberates as to the percentage of profit which may legally be charged. The police watchers then ascertain whether the day's regulations are being followed. If not, the dealer gets a very heavy fine—or in some of the more flagrant cases, a prison sentence.

"We have found it very effective, sometimes to give a jail term. For instance, coal dealers sometimes tell their customers they have no more coal. These men are simply waiting for the government to make one of its periodic increases in the official coal price, since thereafter they can sell old coal as well as new at the higher rate. With these men, we apply the law which takes away for a period of three months their selling licenses. That makes a dealer watch his step."

The profiteering police have regulations intended to limit the number of traders. Each trader must have a license to do either wholesale or retail business as the case may be. One old woman at the open-air market ran foul of the wholesale license law because she sold, unknowingly, to a retailer thirty eggs. The court held that nobody nowadays could afford to buy so many eggs all at once, hence she could have known she was doing business with a retailer. She got only a nominal fine as her business associate said she was always an honest trader.

She Wanted To Die But Now Wants To Live With Her Son

FORT WORTH, Texas, June 22.—"The little woman who prayed to die," Mrs. Ethel Briggs, 56 years old, now prays to live—she has found her son after forty three years of separation. It was forty three years ago that Mrs. Briggs' husband deserted her. With him he took their son Julius who grew up to regard his father's second wife as his real mother. It was not until four years ago that Julius learned the truth.

With Mrs. Briggs were left four little children for whom the woman toiled and saved that they might be educated and provided for.

Then as they grew older, one by one, they too, deserted her until the aged mother was left alone. Recently she was admitted to the Tarrant County Poor Farm where she became known as "the little woman who prays to die."

Two months ago Julius Briggs came to Fort Worth and secured employment with the Rock Island Railway Co. From one of his fellow workers he learned of the "little woman."

Briggs was interested, he visited the poor house and after a talk with the "little woman" found that she was his mother.

No longer does the woman pray to die. The meeting has changed her entire outlook on life. She plays now to live, live with her son in their own home—the first real home she has known in more than two score years.

After the reconciliation the woman witnessed the first moving picture show she had ever seen.

PICTURE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Allan Dwan's production "The Glimpses of the Moon," a Paramount picture of rare excellence, was heartily received at its opening showing at the National theatre last evening. The picture, with Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi in the featured roles, deals with the social life of the idle rich—the side that is carefully concealed. The question arises from this production as to whether a wife, in order to repay an acquaintance for financial aid, is justified in keeping secret a certain damaging incident from her husband. Whether she is justified or not, Miss Daniels assists in a deception, and the result is the near destruction of her happy home.

The excellent cast includes David Powell and Maurice Costello. Edith Wharton is the author of the novel of which the photoplay is a picturization.

W. C. Schutt and family of Fort Worth are in the city to spend a week, and the guests of Mrs. Schutt's sister, Mrs. G. A. Lyell. They motored down Wednesday.

BEBE DANIELS SCORES HIT

The power of wealth is the theme of this splendid picture. It tells of a young society girl who is dependent upon a woman friend to maintain her social standing. At the suggestion of this friend, she marries the man of her choice who is none too well off himself. Then that friend makes known the price of her hospitality. What follows is a warning to all young married folks or those who are contemplating entering this state. A near separation suit is the result.

Bebe Daniels is one of society's "poor sisters" and Nita Naldi, her friend. Other players prominent in the cast are David Powell, Maurice Costello, Rubye de Remer and Charles Gerrard. It is an Allan Dwan production adapted from the novel by Edith Wharton.

Mrs. Bertha Schillo, of Chicago, is under arrest there as a suspect in the murder of Richard Tesmer, Chicago, insurance man, who was slain by a woman, bandit who held him and his wife up in his garage and then shot him to death when he fought to save his wife's wedding ring. Mrs. Schillo denies the charge.

J. W. Wadle, a prosperous farmer of the Shiloh community, and a long time reader of the News, came in today and took advantage of the bargain club offer by placing an order for himself, W. L. Gardner and J. E. Kubiak. Thus the offer is taking with the farmers.

Hot Days Increase Danger Of High Blood Pressure

On hot days the atmosphere takes moisture rapidly from the skin; the skin supplies the loss by abstracting more from the blood, and in consequence the blood becomes less fluid and therefore flows with greater difficulty. With thicker blood there is a constant tendency toward the blocking of the circulation. With the increased pressure one of two things is likely to happen, both extremely dangerous.

Either one of the smaller and weaker blood vessels will rupture (apoplexy), or the more watery portions of the blood will be forced into the tissues bringing on Bright's disease or dropsy.

High Blood Pressure is a symptom in itself that the body is absorbing toxic poisons created in the intestines by wastes that lie there too long.

It is well known that the bile is Nature's own regulator and antiseptic. With faulty digestion and imprudent diet, causing liver disturbances, the bile becomes thick, ropery and stagnant. In this condition it cannot do the work Nature intended and auto-intoxication (self-poisoning) results.

A well known physician has succeeded in producing in tablet form under the name Bi-a-lin, the same medical properties of the human bile combined with pleasant, mild, but effective eliminants. These tablets cleanse the system within a few days of the accumulated poisons and so regulate the bile that it quickly resumes its work of preventing further absorption of the poisons that cause high blood pressure. If you suffer from headaches, dizziness, sour stomach, have ringing in the ears, shortness of breath, are constipated, you have the danger signals of high blood pressure. Bi-a-lin reduces high blood pressure rapidly by reaching its cause. You can get Bi-a-lin at most good drug stores with a guarantee to return your money if you do not get wonderful relief from the very first bottle.

Dempsey-Gibbons Fight Will Be A Financial Success

By HENRY L. FARRELL.
United Press Staff Correspondent.
SHELBY, Mont., June 22.—Just as prospects for making a financial failure of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight began to get out in front again, business started to pick up this morning when an order for 1,000 tickets was received from Omaha. Reports from other agencies indicated the ticket sales was beginning to pick up. Dan Tracey, Great Falls hotel man, in charge of the promoter's office here, was much more optimistic and said he felt sure the final installment of the $300,000 Dempsey purse would be posted within another week. Officials of the Great Northern Railroad, who were here yesterday in conference over agreements for the fight, said they were going right ahead with the arrangements figuring there was no doubt the bout would be held.

A threatened clash between the original promoters of the contest and the new management blew over.

Statements concerning the forthcoming battle, were issued from the camps of the champion and challenger. Little Tommy Gibbons, son of the St. Paul battler, announced on behalf of the challenger:

"My daddy is the finest man anywhere and can knock anyone over the house."

Jack Kearns, speaking the sign language for the champion, held up two fingers—apparently meaning a bout that many rounds would see the end of the fight.

While their supporters and promoters talked, Dempsey and Gibbons went in business-like fashion about preparing themselves for the fight.

MRS. MORELAND COULD NEITHER EAT NOR SLEEP FOLLOWING OPERATION

Another Texas Woman Testifies to the Wonderful Reconstructive Powers of Stella Vitae and Says She Can't Praise It Enough.

"Another wonderful endorsement of Stella Vitae that will be read with interest by thousands of frail, suffering women throughout the country, to whom it will undoubtedly point the way to a deliverance from their troubles, was given the other day by Mrs. A. A. Moreland, living on Route No. 6, out of Irving, Dallas County, Texas, who says:

"When they took me to the hospital the operation for removal of a tumor weakened me so much it looked like I would never be able to get up from my bed.

"I lost my appetite completely and couldn't eat a thing unless I just forced it down and then it nearly choked me to swallow it. My nerves were simply torn all to pieces, and many a night I would lie in bed counting every stroke of the clock and praying for daylight to come. And when morning came at last it found me so weak and worn out and miserable I could hardly put my foot to the floor.

"Stella Vitae was recommended to me so highly that I decided to try it and it has helped me and built me up something wonderful. Why, I can eat and enjoy every mouthful of my food and feel like I can never get enough to satisfy my appetite. When I go to bed now I fall asleep just as soon as my head strikes the pillow and I sleep all night without waking once till it is time to get up in the morning.

"I have taken only six bottles of Stella Vitae, but they fixed me up something fine and I can never say enough for this wonderful treatment. It is certainly the best I have ever taken for tonic purposes and it is the very thing for weak and run-down women to give them an appetite and build them up."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Stella Vitae is sold in Mexia by the Mexia Drug Company. (Adv)

GERMANY MAKES IT HOT FOR THE GREEDY

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, June 22.—With all the thoroughness of "German organization talent," the Teuton government is waging, with a veritable police army, a sharp battle against profiteers.

The police, the courts, and export price-fixing commissions are locked together into an organization that is making life miserable for the greedy. Woe unto the storekeeper who charges too much for his sugar, his butter, and his meat! Woe likewise to the coal dealer who holds back his supplies in the hope of higher prices.

The shopkeeper and the coal dealer, the big meat dealer at the central cattle market and the little trader at the open-air markets can be—and are—fined for their delinquencies, or, as it sometimes happens, they go to jail and have their places closed for three months after they emerge.

The German "Wuchergesetz"—profiteering law—is no respecter of persons. The bloated meat trader who figures in millions of marks at the Central "Viehhof" (cattle yards) is given short shrift, just as the old woman who sells eggs at the corner stand.

A word as to the organization of the anti-profiteering battle. The "Wucher" police group is an outgrowth of the tremendous profiteering which arising during the war has now become an almost general evil. In the first place, there is a price-fixing commission—the "Preisprüfungsstelle"—composed of merchants, manufacturers and representatives of the public. This commission takes into consideration prices paid originally, the overhead costs, the devaluation of the mark between the time of the purchase and sale, and then establishes what percentage of profit may properly be taken for each branch.

Once this profit is set, the Wucher police task is mapped. They "go get" profiteers, turn them to the courts and the courts fine or imprison offenders.

FLYING COURTS MAKE FOR SPEEDY JUSTICE

By CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, June 22.—Taking a leaf out of the history of the middle ages, Germany has introduced the so-called "flying market court" as an aid in its battle against profiteers.

Just as in the days of the knights, these courts are set up at the public marts, the offender is haled before them, and his case is quickly disposed of. These flying courts are striking fear to the charts of the greedy.

Operating chiefly in the workers' districts, they are providing a distinct aid in rooting out overcharging, short-weighting, failure to mark goods in plain figures and the like.

Regierungsrat Hinkel, chief of the so-called "Wucherabteilung," or profiteering department of the police, explained to the writer that these flying courts are intended to supplement the already existing Wucher courts, which deal with larger cases—though more slowly.

"My agents go to the markets daily, and observe what the dealers are charging, whether they have their prices marked plainly, whether they are tricky with their weights and measures," says Hinkel. "If a police agent finds anything wrong, the dealer goes upstairs in the market hall—or out on the corner, if it is an open-air market—to the judge. The judge decides hurriedly. It may be a fine it may be jail."

Furthermore, the public can complain and get justice quickly.

"A customer, who hitherto hesitated about the profiteering courts, because of their slowness, can now hale a dealer into the flying court and have the case tried inside a half hour. Sometimes there is some injustice, but big and large these courts are very fast—and very effective. The dealer who knows that a court is sitting every day in the permanent market halls—or that one swoops down every little while on the open-air market—is going to be careful about what he charges a customer and how he treats him."

LOVE AND MOON HAVE SO MUCH IN COMMON

What are "the glimpses of the moon" moments in life? In Edith Wharton's novel, "The Glimpses of the Moon," pictured for Paramount by Allen Dwan, and which is showing at the National theatre today. They are the moments when love first blossoms to find fulfillment, moments that bind lives together safe against temptation. But there are other "glimpses of the moon" moments, according to Bebe Daniels, who plays the role of Susan Branch, the heroine of the picture. "Every time you do a charitable act; every time you accomplish something worth while; every time your thoughts are tempered with bignanimity toward your fellows, you experience what I believe to be 'glimpses of the moon' moments," explained Miss Daniels. "They are the moments when you feel the ecstasy of a full life and reach mental, spiritual and physical heights that fill you above the materialism of every day living. "There is something about the moon when it shines in all its glory that brings a peaceful calm to those who look on from the earth below. It is this same calm that comes to lovers in perfect accord and of which Mrs. Wharton wrote that explains the meaning of the title of her novel, 'The Glimpses of the Moon.' We all seek such omments in our lives, and some find more of them than others."

Asks This Lady, "That I'm a Believer in Cardui?"—Had Been So Weak She Had to Go to Bed.

Oswatimie, Kans.—Mrs. E. E. Keast, formerly of Illinois, residing here, says: "We moved to this state eleven years ago, and I had good health for a long while; and then some year or so ago I had a bad sick spell."

"I got so weak I couldn't go, I couldn't stand on my feet at all. I had to go to bed. I suffered a great deal. I was so nervous I felt I couldn't live. I tried medicines, and everything; had the best of attention, yet I wasn't able to get up. I lay for three months, not able to do anything."

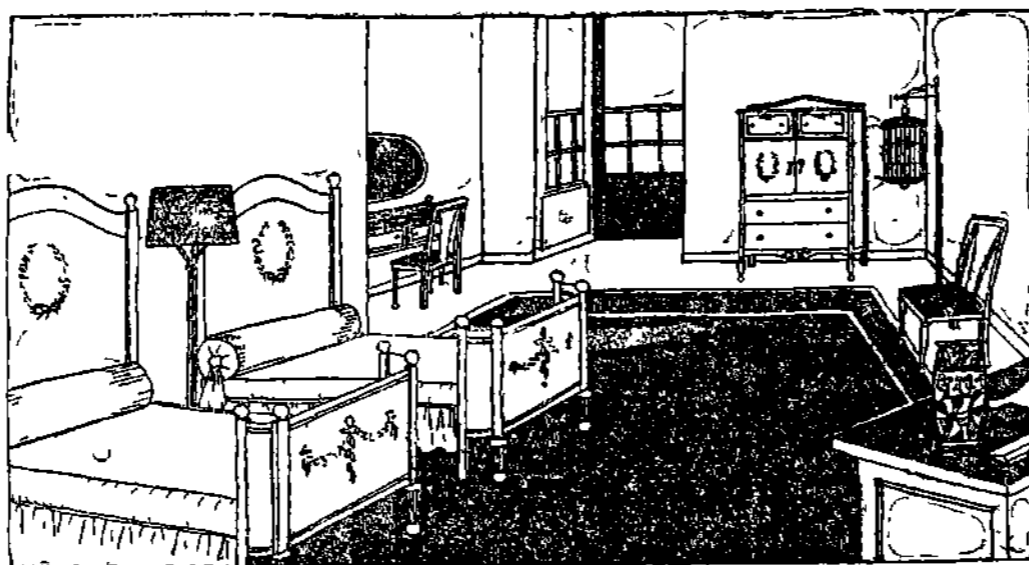

"My husband is a bill poster and has circulars distributed. One day there came to be a Ladies Birthday Almanac among his circulars. I read it, and told some of the family to get me a bottle of Cardui."

"I quit all other medicines and took it (Cardui) faithfully, and two weeks from the time I began to take Cardui I was out of bed—better than for months."

"I kept it up and continued to improve until I was a well woman."

"Do you wonder that I am a believer in Cardui? I certainly am. And I am sure there is no better tonic made for women than Cardui."

Will The Salesmen Tame The Lions At Gusher Park Monday?

The official "announcer" at the Rotary club on Thursday mentioned the coming ball game between the Salesmanship and Lions clubs, Monday, June 25, and he said the Salesmanship club is going to tame those wooly Lions. Some one in the crowd said "why didn't the Rotary club tame 'em." "Why man," he replied, "we just made 'em wild." Well it looks like they are in for a "taming" all right, for the salesmanship club has some real ball players. At last accounts, Phil Korner was trying to get himself up a good alibi by saying he has an awful sore arm; when he has been bragging all around here that he is nigh on to ninety years old and has pitched a million games and never had a sore arm in his life. The fact of the business is those Lions are getting like the nigger's coon, they are "jes skeered."

The salesmanship club has two or three teams and they can relay that Lion outfit to a standstill. They have old ball players, young ones, fat ones, fast ones, slow ones and any kind the occasion demands. They have some right handed pitchers and left handed pitchers; old hands and bone heads. And they have the foxiest manager the world ever saw. He has Hub backed off the board for sagacity.

They had a practice game out there Thursday afternoon that four innings 3 and 2, with some fast playing sprinkled in. One of the teams they had a man playing short who was a ball player when Pop Anson was a little kid and the old man shot four chances over to first just like a youngster. The old man got a two bagger too. The short stop on the other side was one of the stars of the game and he is going to make somebody step by him. Porter Bob Forerast on first looks just like Royster, only he isn't quite as red headed. Yeldell behind the bat looks good, but he hasn't a chance as Jerry Naylor is a charter member of the salesmanship club.

Better quit now, as I might tell something those Lions won't want to hear, and then they will be afraid to come to the park. But it does look like a bad day for those Lions.

PICTURE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Allan Dwan's production, "The Glimpses of the Moon," a Paramount picture of rare excellence, was heartily received at its opening showing at the National theatre last evening. The picture, with Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi in the featured roles, deals with the social life of the idle rich—the side that is carefully concealed. The question arises from this production as to whether a wife, in order to repay an acquaintance for financial aid, is justified in keeping secret a certain damaging incident from her husband. Whether she is justified or not, Miss Daniels assists in a deception, and the result is the near destruction of her happy home.
The excellent cast includes David Powell and Maurice Costello. Edith Wharton is the author of the novel, of which the photoplay is a picturization.

-All lines are being sold ridiculously cheap during our Closing Out Sale. When our sale opened up, we stated in the beginning that all lines of Shoes would be cleared out, and we quoted our prices. Some could not understand why we were selling such high grade shoes at such low prices. They were confused—but when they visited our store and saw the many hundreds of pairs on our shelves and tables and heard our assurance that we were leaving Mexia—everything was made clear to them and they began to buy, and they have bought as never before. They realized the great opportunity afforded them and the comparatively short time in which they would be able to supply their needs.

1000 PROTEST AGAINST PRISON SENTENCE

British Vessel Tests Governments Liquor Ruling

Eight More Ships To Leave England Soon With Booze

NEW YORK, June 22.—The liner Baltic, arrived with liquor aboard to test the government's ruling against intoxicants brought inside the three-mile limit. While customs officials went down the bay to meet the Berengaria, thought to be the first British ship to challenge the American law, the Baltic slid into quarantine. She has liquor aboard under British seal, for use of passengers on the return trip. The contraband will probably be seized if inspection shows it is in excess of medical purposes. Possibility that Captain Roberts might be arrested for illegally bringing liquor into American waters. It is understood that night British liners are scheduled to sail from England soon, all carrying liquor.

NEW YORK, June 22.—Docking today with supplies of liquor under official British seals the Cunarder Berengaria made the first test case of a foreign vessel's right to bring liquor into American territorial waters. The Berengaria was due to dock at noon. Before that time, however, customs officers, under orders from Washington, will have broken the seals of His Majesty's Government, seized the liquor and given a receipt for it. After which the Conard Line may make its official protest to the Treasury Department and test the case probably in court.

The big liner, shoved up off quarantine early this morning and specially instructed customs officials were waiting to board her. The intended seizure was a cut and dried affair, the announcement having been made at Washington of what was to be expected. The intrusion of beverage liquor within the Volsteadian domain was not regarded as a challenge to American legislation or authority. It was recognized the steamship companies are entitled to their test case.

Demonstration Occurs Before Houston Jail

HOUSTON, Texas, June 22.—One thousand persons were reported to have taken part in a silent demonstration which was staged at the county jail here last night in protest to the jailing of three Goose Creek citizens for contempt of court.

The men, W. E. Viles, W. S. Bradley, and J. E. Harper, were incarcerated in the county jail yesterday after they had refused to answer questions propounded to them in connection with a grand jury investigation into mob rule and masked floggings in Harris county.

A small demonstration was staged yesterday afternoon when about 300 residents of Goose Creek gathered at the jail. All business houses in the little oil town were closed yesterday and the people piled into all available vehicles and came to Houston.

Last night the big demonstration was held. It lasted for more than an hour. There was no loud talking, the crowd for the most part was silent. One speech was made and a band played several numbers and then departed. Some concern was exhibited by local officials and the electric traffic signals were ordered to be run until 11 p. m. The night squad of motorcycle policemen were held in readiness for any possible violence.

According to men reputed to be leaders of the crowd, another and larger demonstration will be held tonight.

The men were sentenced to jail until they agree to answer the questions asked them.

The demonstrations will continue until the men are released, according to members of the crowd last night.

Harding Thinks He Has Won In Fight For World Court

By LAWRENCE MARTIN

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press) Enroute to Kansas City on Board President Harding's Special Train, June 22.—President Harding has either taken into camp the enemies of his world court plan or he has surrendered the proposal to their mercies, knowing that they will kill it.

The President believes he has done the former, that by appearing to yield freely and generously to their demand for reservations he has forced Senators Lodge, Watson and the other disaffected Republican senators to put on their reservations and then ratify the court protocol or convict themselves before the country of insincerity.

The reaction to Mr. Harding's world court speech to an audience of 10,000 last night probably will be violent. The President will not be surprised if it is.

He expects, for example, that the irreconcilables will at once raise a clamor against his suggestion that the court be made self-perpetuating. That suggestion, one of the most amazing ever uttered by an American President, was put into the speech, against the advice of some of Mr. Harding's close friends. But he put it in along with his general offer to consider any and all reservations offered in good faith. He did this deliberately. His purpose was simply to force a definite line-up on the court to show who are for it, who against it, and who is trying to knife it while ostensibly supporting it in principle.

The St. Louis speech was, in fact, the boldest challenge Mr. Harding has yet issued to that group of Senators who have lately been trying to "ruin him" not only on the court issue, but on domestic matters, some of them purely political.

The President was warned before he delivered his St. Louis speech that it would not please either the friends or the foes of the world court plan. Mr. Harding said last night he would not try to coerce the Senate nor impose his will on the people and "score a victory for executive insistence." He will not repeat if he can help it, the experience of Woodrow Wilson with the Versailles treaty.

He wants most earnestly to get the United States into the court. He is willing to accept any method any reservation that will insure American membership.

The reason is that the court plan is the cornerstone of the Harding administration's whole plan for world peace. Without American membership in the court, other items in the Harding international program will either be rendered impracticable or seriously delayed. That is why

Mr. Harding last night, in his combined challenge and appeal, went much further than ever before in expressing willingness to accept reservations.

Senator Lodge at a recent conference with Mr. Harding at the White House told the President the reservations, he, Watson and the other dissatisfied Republicans wanted. Mr. Harding last night virtually accepted Lodge's proposals.

Last night's audience received the speech with only moderate enthusiasm. Mr. Harding chose a difficult audience, for his court address. He was speaking to people who have very largely supported the extreme irreconcilable views of Senators Reed and Borah. He was introduced to that audience by Arthur M. Hyde, the Governor of Missouri, who recently wrote Senator Lodge that 500,000 Missouri Republicans, were with Lodge in his opposition to the court.

GERMAN SHOTS 3 BELGIANS KILLING 2 ON SPOT

DUSSELDORF, June 22.—Two Belgian soldiers were shot dead and a third wounded by one of two German civilians whom they had halted on the road near the village of Marl between Dorsten and Recklinghausen, in the Ruhr.

The Belgians were part of a cyclist patrol. Coming upon the Germans, they stopped and questioned them whereupon one of the latter drew a revolver and firing rapidly, shot down all three soldiers before they could act. Neither of the Germans has been apprehended.

The President Given Rousing Reception Today

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—President Harding was given a rousing reception on his arrival here. He and wife are apparently standing the heat well. In his speech last night the president advocated detaching the World Court from the League of Nations and making it independent organization. He expects much criticism for expressing this view.

Circulation Of The News Climbs Fast

The stream of new subscriptions to The Mexia Daily News has become a steady flow today, as additional readers send in their checks for the newspaper for the coming year. The largest number of subscriptions to reach here on any one day of the campaign are coming in today. In fact, the record has already been broken, with several hours yet ahead before night falls and before all mail is in.

It is expected that each day until the close of the club rate campaign July 15, that even larger numbers will subscribe for the only daily between Corsicana and Bryan. The Mexia Daily News occupies and serves a territory that commands for it the respect of the entire state and with the expansion of circulation throughout the rural and neighboring communities, The News expects to improve constantly. The new subscribers coming in today are largely from the mail routes out of Mexia and out of surrounding towns. The farmers are pleased to learn of the plan which provides them with a daily newspaper for a price about the equal of that which they usually pay for a weekly.

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 22.—An indictment charging murder was returned by a grand jury here late Thursday against John T. Helbert, deputy constable for the shooting of Alva Hooper. Helbert, who was seriously wounded in the gun battle, was dismissed from the hospital Wednesday. Hooper was shot and killed last Saturday night on the streets here.

St. Louis, June 22.—Guy Gundaker of Philadelphia, became president of the International Rotary club when his nomination was enthusiastically received at nominations closed without others being entered.

THREE GUSHERS IN THURSDAY IN POWELL FIELD

The Humphreys McKie 2 came in about 7:00 o'clock Thursday night, making an estimated gusher production of at least 7,000 barrels. Colonel A. E. Humphreys, President of the Company, left the headquarters of the company here early Thursday, it being expected that the well would be brought in a few hours earlier than it was. But he remained on the ground until the noteworthy event was a reality. He stated today that the well was making by actual gauge test, through a choke, 3600 barrels of "pure" pipe-line oil. With Colonel Humphreys at the well were Glen Kahle and other members of the organization as well as hundreds of spectators during the day. The well was considered highly important as it represented an extension that proves without doubt a very large field at Powell. It is a southwest extension of 4500 feet from the Kent.

The day was a record for the new pool, three producers joining the production list during the day. The other two were those reported in Thursday's News, the U. S. Tex Burke No. 2 and the Gulf's Blumrosen 1 wells.

Immediately upon the completion of the Humphreys McKie 2, the Humble Company made locations for 4 more wells and the Humphreys oil company today will make 4 additional locations in the vicinity of its Number 2.

The line of production at Powell now extends Northeast and Southwest for about one mile, on both sides of Chambers Creek.

The E. L. Smith Oil Company's Irvine 1, below the Austin Chalk, is looked forward to as the most important well now being drilled. It will prove up the pool several hundred yards further Southwest. Quite a number of other wells have set casing, including the Hughes McKie 4; the Sun company's Springfield offsetting the J. L. Thompson Oil Corporation's Springfield, while Mitchell and Jones have drilled out the plug in the Burke 1 a couple of hundred yards North-east of Hughes McKie 1 gusher, whose flow continues in undiminished volume.

Editor Lee Kirgan of the Fairfield Recorder passed through Mexia this morning enroute to Waco to bring his daughter home after attending school over there the past term. He paid the News sanctum a pop call in passing.

Farmers May Purchase Armour Grain Company

CHICAGO, June 22.—A plan for co-operative purchase of the Armour Grain Company by farmers as suggested by Bernard M. Baruch has aroused favorable interest from J. Ogden Armour and George A. Marcy, head of the grain company, Marcy said today.

Baruch confirmed that Baruch had preached the scheme to both the Armour chief. After Armour and Marcy had given general approval to the plan, no definite proposal as to purchase price or buyers was made and the project is still in a "tentative stage."

"We are open to any proposition made us, and we understand that the conversations will be resumed after Baruch has conferred with other parties, (probably a farmers or wheat growers organization,) who might become parties to such an arrangement," Marcy stated.

Baruch reviewed his proposed project in an interview with the United Press in New York last night. He urged that farmers, probably through the United States Grain Growers Inc., or a like organization purchase the Armour organization and turn it into a great co-operative marketing concern through which the wheat growers may obtain increased prices and greater profits.

Explosion Of Speedy Yacht Unexplained

NEW LONDON, Conn., June 22. The crew of a speedy power yacht, now only tangled wreckage, is unaccounted for following an explosion twenty miles off Saybrook last night observed by the yacht Shadow.

Dr. J. C. Ayer, who arrived here aboard the yacht, informed the police that he and members of the Shadow's party had observed a high powered speed boat "cruising" along the Sound last evening. The launch was seen suddenly to be enveloped in flames; an explosion followed. When small boats from the Shadow reached the spot where the launch should be, only bits of wreckage remained. Dr. Ayer had no indication of how many had been on the launch.

Woman Testifies That She Fired Twice At Men Who Were Backing Out of Hotel

LUBBOCK, Texas, June 22.—Testifying at the trial of Tom Ross, Mrs. H. L. Robertson declared that she fired two shots at two men backing out of the hotel lobby after her husband and

Dave Allison were killed. When asked who she shot at she looked at Ross and said, "the man who killed my husband." Sheriff Britton, who witnessed the shooting, testified that Ross entered the lobby and started the firing.

With The Heat Wave

NEW YORK, June 22.—Considerable relief from the terrific heat wave lying over the East was experienced by New Yorkers today. The temperature at 8 a. m. was 75, with the semblance of a breeze. This was ten degrees cooler than at the same hour Thursday.

Six more deaths were caused here by the heat yesterday, with numerous prostrations.

Two persons died from heat prostrations in Brooklyn early today, expiring shortly before a slight breeze blew up, bringing relief.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 22.—Kansas City sweltered under continued high temperatures today, on the occasion of President Harding's visit.

Precautions were taken to rush heat victims to hospitals, as huge crowds gathered to witness the presidential parade through the city.

Record high temperature for the year will be made here this afternoon, the eWeather Bureau predicted.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 22.—Ohio, sweltering in temperatures ranging from 90 to 95, which have taken a death toll of 29 persons, saw the prospects of the heat wave abating at an early hour today.

Findlay reported a temperature of 86 and clear skies at 7 a. m.

DETROIT, Mich., June 22.—One man was killed by lightning, one succumbed to heat prostration and seven cases of prostration were reported in the last 24 hours here. Although a light rain fell late yesterday the temperature was on the up-trend this morning with 82 recorded at 8 a. m.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—No further material relief from the heat today and tomorrow is promised by the weather bureau. No change for the next forty eight hours. Thunder storms in the south are expected to cool that section, however.

BOSTON, Mass., June 22.—The east wind, New England's "good Samaritan of the elements" today broke the heat wave which caused eleven deaths and many prostrations in its three day seige.

The coast section was sweltering in a temperature of 95 degrees last night when the first faint breath of the east wind came across the ocean. Within an hour the mercury had dropped ten degrees and by dawn today the heat had been routed.

REVIVALIST TO REACH HERE SATURDAY

H. S. Jenkins, singer, who is to assist at the revival which is to begin Sunday at the First Methodist church, will arrive tonight said Rev. W. B. Andrews, the pastor, today in speaking of the services. He further stated that the evangelist, Rev. Luther Bridges, will reach Mexia Saturday.

Everything is in readiness for the meeting. The addition of several fans to the big auditorium of the church makes it one of the coolest places in town and there should be no discomfort to the congregations who attend, said the local pastor, in speaking of the arrangements made.

The first service of the revival will be Sunday morning at 11:00 and the next in the evening at 8:15. Thereafter, for at least two weeks the meeting will continue, with two services daily. The hour of the morning service will be announced upon the arrival of Dr. Bridges.

The Methodists of the city and community are looking forward to the revival and a great many of them with much expectancy as it will be the first revival held in the church here in a good many months. The stewards and congregation join the pastor in extending a cordial invitation to everyone to be present.

COMMENDING THE ELKS OF MEXIA

The News has heard many expressions of approval because of the Flag Day service held by the Mexia B. P. O. E. The Elks of this city represented the only organization here that attempted anything in the way of a patriotic observance on the historical date. The attendance was not what it should have been on the occasion when the Flag Day Service was held at the First Christian church. Yet it was a source of satisfaction to know that an organization and a number of citizens, imbued with the spirit of America, anxious to perpetuate its traditions and instill its lofty ideals in young and old alike, were striving to do something worth while and helpful. The service was impressive; the address by acting Exalted Ruler Reeves inspirational. The Mexia B. P. O. E. truly represented the best in American blood and in American history on that occasion.

MEXIA MAN HAS RELIC OF ST. MIHIEL DRIVE TO BE SHOWN AT THE FAIR

Found in a deserted French village in the St. Mihiel district, after the fleeing Germans had left devastation behind, a magnificent robe worn by the priest in charge of the village church, may be exhibited at the State Fair of Texas, Dallas, October 13-28.

Richard G. Norman, with the Texas company at Mexia, has written Secretary Stratton of the State Fair, telling the secretary about the robe, and asking information as to how it may be shown to the thousands who will visit the Fair this year.

Mr. Norman, who saw service overseas, brought the robe home with him, after having found it in the war-torn French town.

The Mexia man's letter has been referred to the superintendent of the art and curio department of the State Fair, and it may be that the relic will prove of utmost interest to visitors next October.

Luling Field Outlook Bright

"Luling is sure to be a second Burdett," said Charles Porter Tindley, Mexia oil operator, who has been active in the development of the Tehuacana section of the Mexia fields, on his return from Luling late yesterday. With the major companies, including the Magnolia, Gulf, Texas, Roxana and several independent companies, the "big show" is on at Luling. From now on the development will be carried on with hectic speed in the race for the liquid gold, which in the opinion of some of the best posted oil men underlies this section of Caldwell county.

Recently the Magnolia and the Texas purchased nearly three hundred acres between the Sap railroad and the Southern Pacific Railroads. Over twenty freight cars loaded with equipment arrived on the Luling tracks the first of this week. The acreage purchased by these companies are between the Richard Kennedy and the Rayor wells, both of these wells are showing oil and gas and are on the northeastern extension of the field. The leases owned by Messrs Tindley and Killough of Mexia are between these developments, the Kennedy acreage offsetting on the west.

Many of the big companies now have men on the ground and numbers of deals for acreage here are under way, with several big deals completed Monday. Prices ranging from $40 to $350 are paid depending on distance. But a little of the close-in stuff is offered. The completion of the Tabor well some few days ago, estimated good for 1,500 barrels, has stimulated activities and plans are under way for a drilling campaign surpassing anything projected before in Southwest Texas. The Greyburg well, supervised by Dr. Thompson of San Antonio, well known in Mexia during the boom, is looking good for a producer. The Hardaman well shot oil and gas over the derrick Sunday. Several wells are nearing the pay and if it was not for the restrictions of the Railroad commission many new producers would be brought in. Pipe line facilities are under way and in a few days shipments will be running from the Luling field.

It is the consensus of opinion among the big men that big production will be found in the two sands that are now known and that deep test oil will be found. The best evidence of all this aside from the data of the formations and the logs of the wells, is the manner in which the major companies have bought leases in Luling—and are still buying.

NOTICE ICE CONSUMERS

Some months ago we issued a bulletin on the price of ice. In this bulletin we announced that we would give a 5 per cent discount for the purchase of coupon books if paid for at the time of purchase. We allowed this discount in order to eliminate credits and the trouble and expense of sending out a collector. Beginning June 22nd we are going to do still better and allow you, instead of the 5 per cent discount, 5 cents per hundred pounds of ice for the purchase of coupon books for cash which will make the price as follows:

Wholesale deliveries (average 100 lbs or more per day).....	60c
Wholesale for coupons (average 100 lbs. or more per day)....	55c
1000 lb. Coupon Books, Cash.....	$ 5.50
2000 lb. Coupon Books, Cash.....	$11.00
Retail deliveries (less than 100 lbs. average per day).....	70c
Retail deliveries for coupons.....	65c
500 lb. Coupon Books.....	$3.25
1000 lb. Coupon Books Cash.....	$6.50

Please bear in mind that this price on coupon books means CASH—not pay tomorrow, or when the book is used up, but at the time the book is left at your house or place of business, other wise the old price of 70 cents per hundred remains unchanged.

We have based the above price on the one hundred pounds of ice in order that we may be fair to all as near as possible.

We announced at the beginning of the ice season that we were installing a scoring machine which would insure correct weight to everybody. Since that time we have had less than a half dozen complaints on short weight against about that many daily before the installation of this machine.

In regard to early and late deliveries, do not think that the ice you get at 11 or 12 o'clock in the residence part of town is the same ice that is loaded on the wagon at 4 a. m. New ice is sent to the wagons by truck every two hours so that the shrinkage does not exceed the 4 per cent which is allowed in each block of ice.

We are going to give you service, a nice quality of ice and correct weight. If you fail to get these, we will appreciate you calling the office.

Yours very truly,

Central Texas Ice, Light & Power Co.

Johnson, Gusher center fielder, got a home run. The Gushers go to the Capital for three games with the Rangers, today.

SPORTLIGHT

Although the Babe may not set a new home run record he stands a showing to make a new record for walking. In the first fifty games the Babe was walked sixty four times. Afraid of him, eh?

Manager Johnson of the Austin Rangers let the Busters down with four hits Wednesday but out of those four hits the Busters made five runs and defeated the Rangers 5 to 2.

The Squib got two of the Gushers' five hits at Marlin Wednesday but the boys just could not help the Squib along.

Butler and Bechtol swatted a 3-bagger and a double respectively but Charlie Gresset worked hard and diligently to keep them from counting.

John Frieson, veteran Texas leaguer, has quit the Sherman Red Sox and McIver is using Grady Higginbotham in his place in the center garden.

Tom Gibbons is working hard for his coming fight with Dempsey and the people of Shelby are absolutely for Gibbons.

The state tennis tournament will be held at Austin in 1924 on the campus of the University of Texas.

Babe Ruth has smacked out four homers this season and out of the 30 played at home he has only struck four homers while he has not 10 out of the 26 road games. The Stadium must be a jinx to the Yanks.

A slight rain fell about noon and it is hoped that it will continue to until the farmers of all sections are benefited.

KEEPING UP WITH CLAUDE

We went out to see Claude Bryant yesterday and found him sitting up and, presumably, enjoying life. He is able to walk a little now and then with the aid of his crutches and declares that he can walk on a pair of crutches if any one can, if they will only give him a half a chance.

While there the postman brought him a letter from his mother, the dearest pal on earth, and before opening it, he smiled and said "I'll bet she wants me to come home on the next train."

Claude used to be quite an athlete during his high school days indulging in all of the school sports with the exception of football. He won first place at the state meet in the pole vault and the next year he tied for first in the same event. He also slung a wicked arm when it came to throwing the shot. He played baseball with the town team at Center, his home town, and with the adjoining town of the community.

Claude is confident, however, that the Gushers will come through all right and he said that he didn't know what to think of them losing Wednesday's game, unless they had left their luck at home and were having a little trouble in getting it back.

The Right Shortening is Important

SO much depends upon it. Whether your cake, your biscuits or muffins shall be light and tender, or whether they will turn out tough and soggy is often determined by the shortening you use. Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is a pure vegetable shortening. It is light and easily digested. It makes pastries and hot breads always tender and delicious.

Thousands of women are learning the satisfaction of always using a pure, dependable shortening. Mrs. Tucker's never gives a lardy taste to food. In trying, it browns food crisply and delicately. It costs no more than ordinary shortening and can be used again and again.

Be sure to get the blue pail with Mrs. Tucker's picture on it. Mrs. Tucker's Shortening is made right here in the South.

DEMPSEY LOSES LOTS OF HIS OLD FIGHT SPIRIT

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff correspondent)

GREAT FALLS, Mont., June 22.—Jack Dempsey weighs 189 pounds and "he won't be much more" when he goes into the ring against Tommy Gibbons, July 4, Jerry L. Ayates, his trainer, said today.

Dempsey still looks lighter than he did when he was getting ready for Georges Carpentier. He has the bulky shoulders and a lot of weight in his arm, but he seems to be slimmer in the waist and limbs.

Bets were being offered today with Dempsey the favorite to knock out Gibbons. In one billiard hall where bets are posted on a blackboard, $100 to $50 and $200 to $100 were offered on Dempsey to win, but there were no takers. The betting is changing, however. Several large bets of more than $1,000 were taken last week at odds of 4 to 1, on the champion.

Outside of the heavyweight boxing championship, Jack Dempsey has his heart set on another title. He wants to take on any man of his weight or better at hearts. And Dempsey says he can deal.

While the wind whistled through the trees about the champion's training quarters last night, and beat down steadily and musically on the roof, Dempsey banked iron dollars and dimes in front of him as he ran a big game of hearts with his camp mates.

"I'm better with the dough than Doc Kearns and that makes me champion," Dempsey said as he looked over a handful of clubs and remarked on top of it:

"Wouldn't be a bad whist hand would it?"

Dempsey has lost a lot of the boy ant spirit that he had at Atlantic City. He doesn't try, his wringing holds on his friends and he no longer takes pride in putting a "tenderfoot" flat in a chair with a mighty wallop on the back. But the champion still likes to play cards.

GALVESTON, June 22.—The large rum runner reported anchored off the coast failed to materialize when customs inspectors visited the vicinity where the ship was reported seen. According to Sam Zinn, special deputy collector, a large boat was anchored slightly off the steamship lanes last night. He declared he did not know whether it was a rum vessel or not. No trace of the ship was found on investigation.

Where Quality Counts Above Everything Else

Quality is more important in an enclosed car than in most any other product in daily use.

Regardless of price, it is not economy to buy a makeshift job in which the quality is skimmed and cheapened at every turn. Paint, imitation leather and fibre board too often cover serious structural defects and cotton-and-wool trimming cloths are short lived. The chances are that the buyer will more than pay the difference later—in higher upkeep cost, frequent repairs and excessive depreciation.

The price of the Light-Six Sedan is the lowest at which it is possible to obtain a substantial, high grade hardwood and steel body, upholstered in mohair, in combination with a chassis of proved dependability and performance.

Studebaker's South Bend plants build more high quality closed bodies than those of any other automobile manufacturer and consequently overhead costs are reduced and the price to the customer is low.

The in-built quality of the Light-Six Sedan is evident the moment one gets behind the wheel, and is appreciated far more after twenty-five or thirty thousand miles of service.

The Light-Six Sedan, with its sturdy four-door body, its improved L-head motor, and the excellence of its chassis, combines distinction of appearance with a reliability of performance, a degree of comfort and economy of operation unknown in any other car at anywhere near its price.

Protest The Poor Is The Berlin Plan Live With Her Son

By CARL D. GROAT
United Press Staff Correspondent.
CHAPTER III

BERLIN, June 22—Germany's anti-profitting law and its army of enforcement are concerned chiefly with shielding the man with overalls and his frau. It doesn't worry much about the bloated newly-rich, living luxuriously on Kurfuerstendamm.

"We aim to protect the workman and his family," said Regierungsrat Hinkel to the United Press. "I don't worry so much about the be-jeweled woman who sends her cook down to the market to buy early strawberries at a few thousand marks a piece. I'm more concerned with seeing that profiteering dealers don't try to charge mill-workers a few hundred marks extra for her scanty piece of meat which she can afford to have only once a week or once every two weeks."

The Wucher police—profiteer police—center much of their attention on the great cattle yards in east Berlin. Every morning before the slaughtering starts, a special board deliberates as to the percentage of profit which may legally be charged. The police watchers then ascertain whether the day's regulations are being followed. If not, the dealer gets a very heavy fine—or in some of the more flagrant cases, a prison sentence.

"We have found it very effective, sometimes to give a jail term. For instance, coal dealers sometimes tell their customers they have no more coal. These men are simply waiting for the government to make one of its periodic increases in the official coal price, since thereafter they can sell old coal as well as new at the higher rate. With these men, we apply the law which takes away for a period of three months their selling licenses. That makes a dealer watch his step."

The profiteering police have regulations intended to limit the number of traders. Each trader must have a license to do either wholesale or retail business as the case may be. One old woman at the open-air market ran foul of the wholesale license law because she sold, unknowingly, to a retailer thirty eggs. The court held that nobody nowadays could afford to buy so many eggs all at once, hence she could many eggs all at once, hence she should have known she was doing business with a retailer. She got only a nominal fine, as her business associates said she was always an honest trader.

She Wanted To Die But Now Wants To Live With Her Son

FORT WORTH, Texas June 22.—"The little woman who prayed to die," Mrs. Ethel Briggs, 86 years old, now prays to live—she has found her son after forty three years of separation. It was forty three years ago that Mrs. Briggs' husband deserted her. With him he took their son Julius who grew up to regard his father's second wife as his real mother. It was not until four years ago that Julius learned the truth.

With Mrs. Briggs were left four little children for whom the woman toiled and saved that they might be educated and provided for.

Then as they grew older, one by one, they too, deserted her until the aged mother was left alone. Recently she was admitted to the Tarrant County Poor Farm where she became known as "the little woman who prays to die."

Two months ago Julius Briggs came to Fort Worth and secured employment with the Rock Island Railway Co. From one of his fellow workers he learned of the "little woman."

Briggs was interested, he visited the poor house and after a talk with the "little woman" found that she was his mother.

No longer does the woman pray to die. The meeting has changed her entire outlook on life. She prays now to live, live with her son in their own home—the first real home she has known in more than two score years.

After the reconciliation the woman witnessed the first moving picture show she had ever seen.

PICTURE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Allan Dwan's production, "The Glimpses of the Moon," a Paramount picture of rare excellence, was heartily received at its opening showing at the National theatre last evening. The picture, with Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi in the featured roles, deals with the social life of the idle rich—the side that is carefully concealed. The question arises from this production as to whether a wife, in order to repay an acquaintance for financial aid, is justified in keeping secret a certain damaging incident from her husband. Whether she is justified or not, Miss Daniels assists in a deception, and the result is the near destruction of her happy home.

The excellent cast includes David Powell and Maurice Costello. Edith Wharton is the author of the novel of which the photoplay is a picturization.

W. C. Schutts and family of Fort Worth are in the city to spend a week, and the guests of Mrs. Schutts sister, Mrs. G. A. Lyell. They motored down Wednesday.

BEBE DANIELS SCORES HIT

The power of wealth is the theme of this splendid picture. It tells of a young society girl who is dependent upon a woman friend to maintain her social standing. At the suggestion of this friend, she marries the man of her choice who is none too well off himself. Then that friend makes known the price of her hospitality. What follows is a warning to all young married folks or those who are contemplating entering this state. A near separation suit is the result.

Bebe Daniels is one of society's "poor sisters" and Nita Naldi, her friend. Other players prominent in the cast are David Powell, Maurice Costello, Rubye de Remer and Charles Gerrard. It is an Allan Dwan production adapted from the novel by Edith Wharton.

Mrs. Bertha Schillo, of Chicago, is under arrest there as a suspect in the murder of Richard Tesmer, Chicago, insurance man, who was slain by a woman bandit who held him and his wife up in his garage and then shot him to death when he fought to save his wife's wedding ring. Mrs. Schillo denies the charge.

J. W. Wadle, a prosperous farmer of the Shiloh community, and a long time reader of the News, came in today and took advantage of the bargain club offer by placing an order for himself, W. L. Gardner and J. E. Kubiak. Thus the offer is taking with the farmers.

MRS. MORELAND COULD NEITHER EAT NOR SLEEP FOLLOWING OPERATION

Another Texas Woman Testifies to the Wonderful Reconstructive Powers of Stella Vitae and Says She Can't Praise It Enough.

"Another wonderful endorsement of Stella Vitae that will be read with interest by thousands of frail, suffering women throughout the country, to whom it will undoubtedly point the way to a deliverance from their troubles, was given the other day by Mrs. A. A. Moreland, living on Route No. 6, out of Irving, Dallas County, Texas, who says:

"When they took me to the hospital the operation for removal of a tumor weakened me so much it looked like I would never be able to get up from my bed.

"I lost my appetite completely and couldn't eat a thing unless I just forced it down and then it nearly choked me to swallow it. My nerves were simply torn all to pieces, and many a night I would lie in bed counting every stroke of the clock and praying for daylight to come. And when morning came at last it found me so weak and worn out and miserable I could hardly put my foot to the floor.

"Stella Vitae was recommended to me so highly that I decided to try it and it has helped me and built me up something wonderful. Why, I can eat and enjoy every mouthful of my food and feel like I can never get enough to satisfy my appetite. When I go to bed now I fall asleep almost as soon as my head strikes the pillow and I sleep all night without waking once till it is time to get up in the morning.

"I have taken only six bottles of Stella Vitae, but they fixed me up something fine and I can never say enough for this wonderful treatment. It is certainly the best I have ever taken for tonic purposes and it is the very thing for weak and run-down women to give them an appetite and build them up."

Note—Stella Vitae may be obtained from any druggist and is sold upon the positive guarantee that the purchase price will be refunded if it fails to bring relief. Stella Vitae is sold in Mexia by the Mexia Drug Company. (Adv)

Hot Days Increase Danger Of High Blood Pressure

On hot days the atmosphere takes moisture rapidly from the skin; the skin supplies the loss by abstracting more from the blood, and in consequence the blood becomes less fluid and therefore flows with greater difficulty. With thicker blood there is a constant tendency toward the blocking of the circulation. With the increased pressure one of two things is likely to happen, both extremely dangerous.

Either one of the smaller and weaker blood vessels will rupture (apoplexy), or the more watery portions of the blood will be forced into the tissues bringing on Bright's disease or dropsy.

High Blood Pressure is a symptom in itself that the body is absorbing toxic poisons created in the intestines by wastes that lie there too long.

It is well known that the bile is Nature's own regulator and antiseptic. With faulty digestion and imprudent diet, causing liver disturbances, the bile becomes thick, ropery and stagnant. In this condition it cannot do the work Nature intended and auto-intoxication (self-poisoning) results.

A well known physician has succeeded in producing in tablet form under the name Bi-a-lin, the same medical properties of the human bile combined with pleasant, mild, but effective eliminants. These tablets cleanse the system within a few days of the accumulated poisons and so regulate the bile that it quickly resumes its work of preventing further absorption of the poisons that cause high blood pressure. If you suffer from headaches, dizziness, sour stomach, have ringing in the ears, shortness of breath, are constipated, you have the danger signals of high blood pressure. Bi-a-lin reduces high blood pressure rapidly by reaching its cause. You can get Bi-a-lin at most good drug stores with a guarantee to return your money if you do not get wonderful relief from the very first bottle.

Dempsey-Gibbons Fight Will Be A Financial Success

By HENRY L. FARRELL.

United Press Staff Correspondent. SHELBY, Mont., June 22.—Just as prospects for making a financial failure of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight began to get out in front again, business started to pick up this morning when an order for 1,000 tickets was received from Omaha. Reports from other agencies indicated the ticket sales was beginning to pick up. Dan Tracey, Great Falls hotel man, in charge of the promoter's office here, was much more optimistic and said he felt sure the final installment of the $300,000 Dempsey purse would be posted within another week. Officials of the Great Northern Railroad, who were here yesterday in conference over agreements for the fight, said they were going right ahead with the arrangements figuring there was no doubt the bout would be held.

A threatened clash between the original promoters of the contest and the new management blew over.

Statements concerning the forthcoming battle, were issued from the camps of the champion and challenger. Little Tommy Gibbons, son of the St. Paul battler, announced on behalf of the challenger:

"My dad is the finest man anywhere and can knock anyone over the house."

Jack Kearns, speaking the sign language for the champion, held up two fingers—apparently meaning a bout that many rounds would see the end of the fight. While their supporters and promoters talked, Dempsey and Gibbons went in business-like fashion about preparing themselves for the fight.

GERMANY MAKES IT HOT FOR THE GREEDY

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, June 22.—With all the thoroughness of "German organization talent," the Teuton government is waging, with a veritable police army, a sharp battle against profiteers.
The police, the courts, and expert price-fixing commissions are locked together into an organization that is making life miserable for the greedy.
Woe unto the storekeeper who charges too much for his sugar, his butter, and his meat! Woe likewise to the coal dealer who holds back his supplies in the hope of higher prices.
The shopkeeper and the coal dealer,
the big meat dealer at the central cattle market and the little trader at the open-air markets can be—and are—fined for their delinquencies, or, as it sometimes happens, they go to jail and have their places closed for three months after they emerge.
The German "Wucherergesetz"—profiteering law—is no respecter of persons.
The bloated meat trader who figures in millions of marks at the Central "Viehhof" (cattleyards) is given short shrift, just as the old woman who sells eggs at the corner stand.
A word as to the organization of the anti-profiteering battle.
The "Wucher" police group is an outgrowth of the tremendous profiteering which arising during the war has now become an almost general evil. In the first place, there is a price-fixing commission—the "Preis-prüfungsstelle"—composed of merchants, manufacturers and representatives of the public. This commission takes into consideration prices paid originally, the overhead costs, the devaluation of the mark between the time of the purchase and sale, and then establishes what percentage of profit may properly be taken for each branch.
Once this profit is set, the Wucher police task is mapped. They "go get" profiteers, turn them to the courts and the courts fine or imprison offenders.

FLYING COURTS MAKE FOR SPEEDY JUSTICE

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
BERLIN, June 22.—Taking a leaf out of the history of the middle ages, Germany has introduced the so-called "flying market court" as an aid in its battle against profiteers.
Just as in the days of the knights, these courts are set up at the public markets, the offender is haled before them, and his case is quickly disposed of to the charts of the greedy.
These flying courts are striking fear to the hearts of the profiteers.
Operating chiefly in the workers' districts, they are providing a distinct aid in rooting out overcharging, short-weighing, failure to mark goods in plain figures and the like.
Regierungsrat Hinkel, chief of the so-called "Wucherabteilung," or profiteering department of the police, explained to the writer that these flying courts are intended to supplement the already existing Wucher courts, which deal with larger cases—though more slowly.
"My agents go to the markets daily, and observe what the dealers are charging, whether they have their prices marked plainly, whether they are tricky with their weights and measures," says Hinkel. "If a police agent finds anything wrong, the dealer goes upstairs in the market hall—or out on the corner, if it is an open-air market—to the judge. The judge decides hurriedly. It may be a fine.
It may be jail.
"Furthermore, the public can complain and get justice quickly.
"A customer, who hitherto hesi-tated about the profiteering courts, because of their slowness, can now hale a dealer into the flying court and have the case tried inside a half hour.
Sometimes there is some injustice, but big and large these courts are very fair—and very effective. The dealer who knows that a court is sitting every day in the permanent market halls—or that one swoops down every little while on the open-air market—is going to be careful about what he charges a customer and how he treats him."

azines at the Pioneer News Stand, Sherman and Commerce streets. 21d2

LOVE AND MOON HAVE SO MUCH IN COMMON

What are "the glimpses of the moon" moments in life? In Edith Wharton's novel, "The Glimpses of the Moon," pictured for Paramount by Allen Dwan, and which is showing at the National theatre today. They are the moments when love first blossoms to find fulfillment, moments that bind lives together safe against temptation.
But there are other "glimpses of the moon" moments, according to Bebe
Daniels, who plays the role of Susan Branch, the heroine of the picture.
"Every time you do a charitable act;
every time you accomplish something worth while; every time your thoughts are tempered with bagnetimity toward your fellows, you experience what I believe to be 'glimpses of the moon' moments," explained Miss Daniels. "They are the moments when you feel the ecstasy of a full life and reach mental, spiritual and physical heights that fill you above the materialism of every day living.
"There is something about the moon when it shines in all its glory that brings a peaceful calm to those who look on from the earth below. It is this same calm that comes to lovers in perfect accord and of which Mrs.
Wharton wrote that explains the meaning of the title of her novel, 'The Glimpses of the Moon.' We all seek such omments in our lives, and some find more of them than others."

Will The Salesmen Tame The Lions At Gusher Park Monday?

The official "announcer" at the Rotary club on Thursday mentioned the coming ball game between the Salesmanship and Lions clubs, Monday, June 25, and he said the Salesmanship club is going to tame those woolly Lions. Some one in the crowd said "why didn't the Rotary club tame 'em." "Why man," he replied, "we just made 'em wild." Well it looks like they are in for a "taming" all right, for the salesmanship club has some real ball players. At last accounts, Phil Karner was trying to get himself up a good alibi by saying he has an awful sore arm, when he has been bragging all around here that he is high on to ninety years old and has pitched a million games and never had a sore arm in his life. The fact of the business is those Lions are getting like the nigger's coon, they are "jes skeered."

The salesmanship club has two or three teams and they can relay that Lion outfit to a standstill. They have old ball players, young ones, fat ones, fast ones, slow ones and any kind the occasion demands. They have some right handed pitchers and left handed pitchers; old heads and bone heads. And they have the foxiest manager the world ever saw. He has Hub backed off the board for sagacity.

They had a practice game out there Thursday afternoon that four innings 3 and 2, with some fast playing sprinkled in. One of the teams they had a man playing short who was a ball player when Pop Anson was a little kid and the old man shot four chances over to first just like a youngster. The old man got a two bagger too. The short stop on the other side was one of the stars of the game and he is going to make somebody step by him. Porter Bob Forerst on first looks just like Royster, only he isn't quite as red headed. Yeldell behind the bat looks good, but he hasn't a chance as Jerry Naylor is a charter member of the salesmanship club.

Better quit now, as I might tell something those Lions won't want to hear, and then they will be afraid to come to the park. But it does look like a bad day for those Lions.

PICTURE MEETS WITH FAVOR

Allan Dwan's production, "The Glimpses of the Moon," a Paramount picture or rare excellence, was heartily received at its opening showing at the National theatre last evening. The picture, with Bebe Daniels and Nita Naldi in the featured roles, deals with the social life of the idle rich—the side that is carefully concealed. The question arises from this production as to whether a wife, in order to repay an acquaintance for financial aid, is justified in keeping secret a certain damaging incident from her husband. Whether she is justified or not, Miss Daniels assists in a deception, and the result is the near destruction of her happy home.

The excellent cast includes David Powell and Maurice Costello. Edith Wharton is the author of the novel of which the photoplay is a picturization.

SHOES! SHOES! SHOES!

-All lines are being sold ridiculously cheap during our Closing Out Sale. When our sale opened up, we stated in the beginning that all lines of Shoes would be cleared out, and we quoted our prices. Some could not understand why we were selling such high grade shoes at such low prices. They were confused—but when they visited our store and saw the many hundreds of pairs on our shelves and tables and heard our assurance that we were leaving Mexia—everything was made clear to them and they began to buy, and they have bought as never before. They realized the great opportunity afforded them and the comparatively short time in which they would be able to supply their needs.

-Now people, we still have hundreds of pairs of Men's, Ladies' and Children's Shoes left. Some of the season's very best in color and style. Come in right away and supply your needs for days to come. It will pay you.
